Mr. J. F. Potter Surprised.

Mr. J. F. Potter, the Eleventh street laundryman, was agreeably surprised the other evening by a visit from his employees, bringing with them a handsome gold headed cane and a crayon portrait of Mr. Potter, which they presented to him. About fifteen couples were present, and the evening was spent in dancing to the music of Terrill's orchestra. About midnight a tempting lunch was discussed. Mr. Potter was overcome by the handsome evidence of his employees' esteem, but managed in a few words to express his heartfelt appreciation.

McClelland Accepts.

E. C. McClelland, of this city, called at the INTELLIGENCER office last evening and left the following, in response to a challenge printed in the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph the day before:

I will run M. J. Kennedy, of Chicago, a three-mile race for $250 a side, the race to take place in Pittsburgh on May 21, at Recreation Park, and I will put up my $250 one week after my race with Conners, with either the sporting editor of the Chicago Herald or of the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph. The race to be run for the three-mile championship of the world, and the winner to take all stake money and 75 per cent of the gate receipts and the loser 25 per cent of the gate money.

The Christy Benefit Ball.

The efforts of the cigar makers in behalf of their crippled comrade, John D. Christy, met yesterday evening with the greatest success. The attendance at the ball given for his benefit at Turner hall was very large, and those who were present enjoyed a pleasant time. The committee on arrangements, to which a great part of the success is due, was composed of Messrs. H. Bridgeman, William Brown, J. W. Riley, T. Werner, A. Lang, John White, William Nolte, C. Ziegler, F. Keis and C. Hartman. The floor managers were Henry Soldan, George Steger, T. Parker and Ed Yahn. John Disso, the ballet master, was assisted by Chris. Hartman. Mayer's orchestra furnished the music.

She Committed Suicide.

Mrs. F. C. Boe, at Watkins, left this letter: "My husband—Forgive me if I cause you trouble, but I suffer so. You do not know what these long, wakeful, wretched nights are to me, and I am so tired, darling—the pain will never be better. It is not easy to take my own life, but I have been sick so long. Good-bye, my husband, I love you—your wife." This is but one of thousands that gives up, instead of using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and being speedily cured of their wretchedness. Go to Logan Drug Co. and get an elegant book and trial bottle free.

ACCIDENT BETRAYED

A Swindler with a new Scheme, and he Escapes when Suspected.

HE'S HUNTING HEIRS TO AN ESTATE.

But he had used a Different name at Steubenville Not long ago, and a man who met him There gives him Away—A Neat Scheme to Scoop in Shekels.

Last evening a very slick swindle was prevented from being a success by the merest accident. A man called at the residence of a family named Monahan, living on the South Side, and said his name was Baker, and that he was looking up the heirs in this country to a large estate in Europe, some of the heirs being named Monahan and others Baker. He had about satisfied the family that he was "straight goods," and that the family was entitled to a liberal slice of a magnificent fortune, and had been invited to remain a guest at the house for the night, and discuss the matter of contributions to a fund to pay the expenses of claiming the inheritance, when a circumstance occurred which was exceedingly unfortunate for him.

A neighbor named Harris dropped in to pay call on Mr. Monahan. Mr. Harris had recently been at Steubenville, and there he saw this man Baker, but he there called himself Wright. He was trying to deceive a Mrs. Spurrier with the same swindling scheme about a rich estate in the old country.

When Mr. Harris charged Baker with having used another name in the same scheme, he indignantly denied it, but being somewhat pressed, he said he would go to his hotel and secure papers which would prove beyond doubt that he was all right. He departed, and so far has not come back.

It is a pretty slick game, and pretty apt to work. Only accident prevented its success in this case.

A Man Missing.

James Trainer, whose home is in Parkersburg, where he has a wife, and who was employed as an agent of the American News company between Parkersburg and this city, is mysteriously missing, and no trace of him can be found. The head agent of the News company in this city, T. J. Garrett, was at Parkersburg yesterday looking for him. Trainer's wife told Garrett that her husband had left there for Wheeling last Tuesday, and that she did not know what had become of him. He had quite a sum of money with him when last seen.

A MUSICAL EVENT.

The Annual Concert of the Opera House Orchestra.

Music lovers have a treat in store for them in the annual concert of the Opera House orchestra, to be given Monday evening at the Opera House. Wheeling is proud of this organization of fine musicians, such as but few, if any, towns of this size can boast of, and one that deserves the most cordial support from the citizens. On occasions of this kind the orchestra strives to present a programme of the utmost excellence. As at all former concerts, so the management will have at this time some soloists of note. The concerts are given not so much to make money as to show what can be done in a musical way. The splendid programme prepared was printed in yesterday morning's INTELLIGENCER. Those who hold tickets and those who wish to purchase tickets may reserve their seats at C. A. House's music store, beginning to-day.
